WHO IS DAFT PUNK?

They are a French duo of EDM (Electronic Dance Music) artists Thomas Bangalter and Guy-Manuel de Homem-Christo identifiable by their robot-like helmets.

They formed in 1993 and announced their split earlier this year (For most of us, they've been around our entire lives)

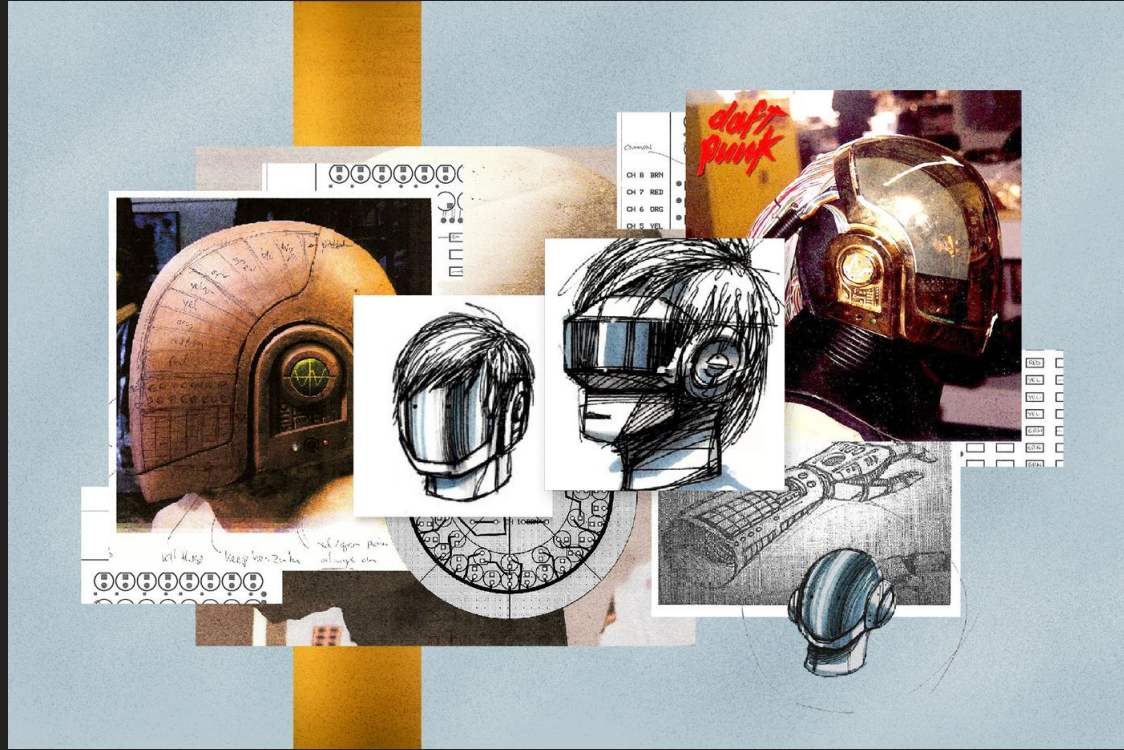

WHAT'S WITH THE HELMETS?

The Helmets were a method of keeping their music separate from the duo's personal life, while still being flashy enough to stand out.

The helmets are capable of displaying various patterns via LED lights as well as playback pre recorded dialog

The original helmet designs produced by Alterian Inc.

The newer more streamlined helmets were produced by Ironhead Studios, who have also designed many costumes used in the Marvel Cinematic Universe

DAFT PUNK MUSIC

Daft Punk utilizes self made samples that they gather from instruments they themselves play (Namely guitar and piano)

MY FAVOURITE DAFT PUNK MUSIC

My favourite Daft
Punk album is actually the score to the 2013 movie,
Tron: Legacy

MY FAVOURITE DAFT PUNK MUSIC

Daft Punk said in an interview that they wanted to try something different for this score: They wanted to blend their normal EDM sound with an orchestra.

The best example of this is the track The Grid, where you can actually hear the sound shift from electronic instruments to an orchestra.
